COMCAST NEWSMAKERS

A forum for leaders to tackle issues that matter

Comcast Newsmakers presents short-form, issue-based conversations with leaders and groundbreakers dedicated to advancing America's communities.

Comcast Newsmakers is the longest-running issue-based platform of any video provider in the country. Having launched in the 1990s, Comcast Newsmakers today includes a national edition, regional production serving select Comcast markets, and a digital presence available free to the general public.
