

LOVE ANYWAY feast

Uniting Our Community,
One Feast at a Time:
Building Bridges, Breaking Barriers

Host a feast or join one between November 8th - 17th

In a year where we will hear again and again why we should fear or even hate each other, we are coming together with thousands around this country to defy this narrative, one meal at a time, and Love Anyway.

Working across many organizations, Common Ground USA along with their partners are launching the Love Anyway Feasts, an intentional campaign after election day to remind us of the power of community and offer an alternative to “us and them” politics. We would like to have people walk away from this political season and still love their families, friends and neighbors: especially ones who voted differently than them. Our vision is to have thousands of dinners being hosted by individuals and groups from all sectors of society and walks of life during the week of November 8-17, and we would love for you to join us in this movement.

During the dinner, participants are encouraged to be their authentic selves, openly expressing their thoughts, hopes, and fears using tools and conversation guides provided by our team, all over a shared meal. The goal is to create a courageous space where empathy can flourish, and preconceived notions or prejudices can dissolve. The call to action for these dinners is to have people go into the holidays armed with tools and tips to have healthy conversation with people on “the other side” and perhaps even find common ground.

We are looking for partners and hosts to help us reach our goal of 2000+ feasts. Partners will receive a media tool kit, support, and opportunities for amplification through our network. Hosts will receive a Love Anyway Feast guide, conversation starters, detailed agenda, “tips and tricks” to host confidently. There will also be many opportunities for individual and group coaching and collaboration. Our desire is to create the largest network of peacemakers in the United States who will forge unity and community, one meal at a time.
